Oratory Contest Will be Campus Feature Soon

Pacific To Play Host to Other Schools; Prizes

P. C. students are in the midst of extensive plans for their Old Line Oratorical contest to be held March 7 when they will be host to contestants from colleges throughout the state. Orators will be drawn from Linfield college, Oregon State college, Willamette university, University of Portland, Pacific university and Pacific college to make their bid for the first prize of $15 and the second prize of $7.50.

The women's division will begin at 4, and the men will follow at 8 p. m., after a dinner for the contestants held in the dining room of Kanyon Hall at 6:30.

The contest is sponsored by the Intercollegiate Forensics association of Oregon and has been rotated between the colleges.

Anonymous Donor Gives P. C. $25,000

Pacific college was the receiver this week of a cash gift of $25,000 from a donor whose identity was not disclosed. The bequest was formally accepted Monday evening at a meeting of the college board of managers.

Income from the fund is to be used for aid of "needy and worthy students of christian character" who have completed at least one year at the college. The money is to be given, not loaned, to such students.

Terms of the bequest also provide that its income may be diverted to the Pennington $100,000 foundation, set up some years ago by the college board in honor of President and Mrs. Pennington. In the event that Dr. Pennington dies or is incapitated, income from the first $50,000 of the foundation is to be diverted for Mrs.

Delegates Attend Conferences

I.R.C. Convenes On Oregon U. Campus Friday

Six delegates from Pacific college attended the Northwest Conference of International Relations held at Eugene over the past weekend.

The conference was made up of about 150 delegates from over 20 colleges in the northwest. Speakers at the two-day affair included G. Bernard Noble, professor of political science at Reed college and one of the signers of the Versailles treaty. "European Affairs" was the subject of Andre Philips' address to the delegates. He recently came from Europe where he is a member of the French chamber of deputies.

Registration opened Friday morning. The preliminary meeting was taken with greetings by Dr. Donald Erb, president of the University of Oregon, and remarks by Miss my Heminway Jones, division assistant, Carnegie Endowment, sponsors of the club.

The first session of the round table was held at 10:30 Friday morning. Pacific college was rep-

Pacific May Sponsor Hayes

Pacific college has received an offer to again sponsor Roland Hayes in another concert next year, according to word received by President Pennington today.

The concert, if accepted, would be sponsored by Pacific college, but would be given in Portland, it was announced.

The college recently sponsored Mr. Hayes in a program presented in the high school auditorium.

Miss Irene Swanson, Portland, and Irvin Atrops, Sherwood, chosen this week to rule over the 15th biennial Pacific college May day celebration May 3. They are the first of the usual May day royalty to make an appearance this year.

School Chooses Royalty Friday

After the student body meeting on Friday, Feb. 16, the election of the May Queen and Cardinal was held. Irene Swanson was chosen for May Queen by the boys of the student body and Ervin Atrops was chosen as Cardinals by the girls of the student body. They have chosen the following students to be in the court: The four princesses are Ruth Hodson, Janet Phipps, Esther May Weesner and Alfreda Martin; the four attendants are Chuck Smith, Willis Barney, Ladean Martin and Leroy Pierson. The student body executive committee has chosen Howard Harrison to act as Generalissimo. As yet the committee heads have not been chosen but that will be done as soon as possible.

Chuck Smith and Verlyn Thornsberry have recently acquired the Signal Service Station at the corner of First and Center

Oregon Student Leaders Convene At Willamette

The second annual convention of the Oregon Federation of College Leaders was held at Willamette University Feb. 23 and 24. Those representing Pacific college were Helen Robertson, Ruth Hodson, Irene Swanson, Ervin Atrops, Bill Rarick and Douglas Cowley. The convention consisted of general sessions and group meetings in which ideas were exchanged and problems of the various colleges discussed. The convention was a help to all who attended. Tours were conducted for the visitors through the capitol and state penitentiary. To conclude the convention a ban-

Student Officer Nominations Up

The student body at its meeting on Friday accepted the nominations for student body offices presented to them by the nominating committee but failed to nominate students for other positions not covered by the nominating committee, so another meeting will have to be held.

Candidates nominated for student offices during 1940-41 were as follows: President, Dean Tate and Bill Rarick; vice president, M. E. Pemberton and Hazel M. Houser; secretary, Janet Phipps and Fern Nixon; treasurer, Chuck Smith and George Thomas; editor of L'Ami, Douglas Cowley and Melvin Ashwill; Crescent editor, Mary Lou Hoskins and Helen Robertson; publicity manager, Jeanne Follette and Galen Miller.

The candidates for each office are to be nominated from the floor for each of the following offices and also for offices of vice president, secretary, treasurer, editor of L'Ami, editor of Crescent and publicity manager if desired.

Candidates to be nominated entirely from the floor are as follows: Associate editor of Crescent; advertising manager of Crescent, circulation manager of the Crescent, forensic manager, property manager, dramatic manager, chairman of dramatics committee, secretary-treasurer of Old Students' association, representative of the student loan fund.

Mr. Jones Tells of Newberg

"As I traveled on the highway, with my horse and buggy, the dust became so dense that I had to stop and let it settle, so as to proceed with my traveling."

This statement was made by Benjamin H. Jones, new superintendent of buildings and grounds, who was speaking of conditions as they existed in Newberg 35 years ago. He then moved to Nebraska.

"It only took the streamliner, City of Portland, 30 hours to cover the 1800 miles," said Mr. Jones. He continued by remarking, "The train made only one stop of 10 minutes; with an older type train it would have taken four days to penter, grain elevator operator, and farmer.

When the domestic side of Mr. Jones was referred to, it was found he had answered the question some years ago, by saying, "Yes, I do," and that he now has a family composed of his wife, three children, and himself. The oldest, Gordon Jones, has a position in Washington, D. C., under the Department of United States Golf Research. It is to study to find the best grass for the golf course. There is also Doris Jones, a junior in high school, and Marcia Jones, a freshman in high school. His family is moving here in the summer.

Student Elections

March 4 will mark the election of new student officers for the coming year. The nominating committee has nominated the main officers. It is now up to the students to choose those they consider the best for each particular position.

Chapel Talks

For some little time there has been a feeling that chapel programs should cover a wider field. We have nothing against the present chapel speakers, but we have an opportunity to hear the teachers of the school at any time. We feel that there are many outside speakers that could fill our chapel periods, which we would otherwise be unable to hear.

Speakers are consatntly coming to Portland that would no doubt be glad to come and speak before the student body. Let's attempt to widen our horizon in this way.

Resolutions of Convention

The Oregon Federation of College Leaders passed several resolutions during their convention during the past weekend. These are worthy of your consideration and may be found elsewhere in this paper. The federation has no power to enforce these resolutions. They just go on record as being in favor of them and it is up to the leaders and students of each school to see that they are put into practice.

A resolution committee was appointed and each resolution was brought before the entire group and voted upon.

Some measures brought considerable debate such as the resolution in favor of compulsory Wasserman tests in all the schools. Oregon State reported that they had found it impossible to procure funds for such tests, while the normal schools have the opportunity to take them free of charge. The group finally went on record in favor of the tests but left it up to the delegates to look into the possibilities in each particular school. This was the type of work that was behind each separate resolution.

Now it is up to the individual student leaders to push these resolutions found needed in each school or reject others.

Changes in Crescent

One thing accomplished by the convening of the delegates of the Oregon Student Leaders convention in Salem Friday and Saturday was the meeting of the various editors of the collegiate publications. It was discovered, much to this editor's sorrow, that he and another lonely editor were the only ones contributing their hard work for the good of old Alma Mater and nothing else. In other words, most of the student editors get paid, ranging from the cancelling of half tuition in the very small schools to a handsome salary of $600 a year in others. Aside from this the convention taught several interesting points. Changes needed in the Crescent and L'Ami. Both publications should be free from faculty censorship. An editor, by the time he reaches college, knows how to use his judgment, otherwise he shouldn't have the position. The editors (as well as all student officers) should be elected in March but should not take office until the last two weeks of school.

The editors should be chosen after having at least one year of journalism and one year of work on the paper. A definite staff should be selected and held together, perhaps forming a journalism fraternity, the editor being selected by this staff with the approval of the student body. Exchanges should be paid for by the school and instead of so many exchanges with other colleges, send more to high schools to advertise the school. These changes are recommended as the barest essentials to bring the Crescent on a par with other college publications.

PACIFIC TO GIVE RADIO PROGRAM OVER KVAN

Pacific college radio talent is to appear for the first time on a new station next Sunday afternoon, March 3, when a college sponsored broadcast is released by station KVAN, Vancouver, Wash., from 5:00 to 5:30.

The program for this initial Washington broadcast is to be furnished by George Beagles, pianist, and Mrs. Beulah Ramsay, who will talk on "Victor Hugo." The program will be a repetition

AMATEUR CONTEST PUT ON SLATE FOR MONDAY BY COLLEGE STUDENTS

An amateur contest, which President Levi T. Pennington, throwing dignity to the winds, led, was given Monday evening, Feb. 26, by students of Pacific college. The contest, which started at 7:30, was held in Wood-Mar hall.

Three divisions—men, women, and special groups—have been set

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY OREGON ASSOCIATION OF STUDENT LEADERS

Be it resolved that a chairman be appointed by the Federation through which secretaries can correspond on social and financial ideas. (Such a chairman was appointed and he may be reached by corresponding with Oregon State College).

Be it resolved that the federation is in favor of student representation on trials of students for major and minor offenses.

Be it resolved that the federation is in favor of majority student representation on boards controlling student finances.

Be it resolved that the federation is in favor of collegiate social programs.

Be it resolved that the federation is in favor of a well rounded social program including student dances.

Be it resolved that the federation is in favor of increased student-town relationships by patronization of city movements.

Be it resolved that the federation is in favor of more recognition of students placnig high in extra curricular or scholarship activities.

Be it resolved that the federation is in favor of more appropriations for women's athletics.

Be it resolved that the federation is in favor of open forums for student finances.

Be it resolved that the federation is in favor of compulsory Wasserman tests.

Be it resolved that the federation is opposed to the proposed cut in NYA appropriations.

This resolution was passed unanimously and it was further voted to send a copy of the above resolution to each Oregon congressman.

Girls' Dormitory News

Dear Cousin:

There have been hardly any feeds around here and I'm practically starving. I guess the girls are on a diet, but they don't realize that it is I who suffers.

The only exciting thing that has happened lately is that Alice Gulley broke her leg. I saw the whole thing. I was looking out from under Mrs. Sanders' door when Alice and Abigail came out. They were acting as if they weren't all there and the first thing I heard was a very, very loud PLOP! It sounded and felt first like an earthquake and there sat Alice sprawled out like a scrambled egg. I wonder how many bones she'd broken if she had fallen down more than one step.

We had a Valentine party. I wish you could have been here to eat with me.

Also we have had a few birthdays at the dorm! Mary Esther's, Abigail's and Marguerite's. I guess Marguerite is the only one that rates around this dorm, because she had a cake baked in her honor. Some pull, huh!

I must go now to see if I can scrape up anything to eat.

Your cousin,
The Dorm Mouse.

Emmett Gulley to Reassume Work As P. C. Teacher

Emmett W. Gulley, head of the Pacific college Spanish department, will return to his work here from Cuba where he is at present engaged in aid to German refugees, it was announced this week by President Levi T. Pennington.

Prof. Gulley expects to finish his Cuban work late in June or early in July and will then return to the United States.

Mrs. Beulah S. Ramsay, who is under a one year contract to teach French and Spanish at Pacific, will be retained as a full-time French teacher, it was decided this week by the board of managers. With the return of Mr. Gulley to the college faculty, the school will be strengthened by another full-time professor and will be enabled to offer a wider range of work, President Pennington said.

FORMAL RECEPTION HELD IN KANYON HALL

The parlors of the remodeled Kanyon Hall were the scene of the New Students' Formal Reception sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. on Friday, Feb. 16.

Over 30 students and faculty members participated in group games, races and stunts led by Irene Swanson and Ruth Hodson.

For entertainment of the guests a program was presented by George Beagles who played two piano solos; Jeanne Follette who gave a humorous reading, and Kenneth Booth who sang two selections.

Refreshments of punch, cake and cookies were served to the group. Irene Swanson, president ofthe Y. W. C. A., presided at the punch bowl.

GOLD Q HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET

The Gold Q held its annual Valentine day banquet at the home of Mrs. Van Blaricon Saturday, Feb. 17. It had for its theme "valentines," which gave opportunity for very beautiful decorations.

The banquet consisted of a turkey dinner, after which those present went into the living-room for coffee and a program. The program consisted of two numbers sung by Alfreda Martin, and three numbers played by Patsy Ruth Doolittle on her electric guitar.

Freshman Play Production On

A sudden intruder to Freshman play practice would be shocked to hear cockney English being emitted from otherwise normal P. C. students. So far the idea is just an experiment to fit in with the setting of their play, "Dover Road," and at the present time the cast believes that the different nationalities represented only lend variety to the British atmosphere.

The entire class is taking part in the production, which will be presented March 21, and they believe the play will be a huge success as it is a very enjoyable comedy. The title is derived from the Dover Road which in the story carries eloping couples to Calais, France, and wedlock. Along the road lives a very wealthy man, Mr. Latimer, who decided that his service to society shall be opening the eyes of the young couples to the pitfalls of wedlock. In the course of this duty he stops the couples on their way and keeps them at his home for one week during which he does his best to make them unattractive to each other. When he stops two separate couples which turn out to be a wife and husband running away with their second loves, the fun begins.

Mr. Latimer, the wealthy pessimist, is brought to life by David Michener; Ann, the young girl who has been swept away by the husband, is Corinne Rickert, while Jim Spirup plays the married man, Count Leonard. His wife, Eustacia, played by Lenabelle Conklin, is fleeing with Nickolas, Eugene Rogers. William Stein, Melvin Ashwill, Douglas Cowley, Enenita Mardock and Wanda Needles also have roles.

P. C. ALUMNI GROUP PLANS ANNUAL MEET FOR NEXT THURSDAY

Annual spring meeting of the Alumni association of Pacific college will be held in the living room of Kanyon hall Thursday, Feb. 29, at 8 p. m.

President of the organization is Veldon J. Diment and secretary is Mrs. Chauncey Gettman of Dallas. Plans will be made at the session next Thursday for the annual banquet which is to be held at commencement time.

DELEGATES ATTEND CONGRESS AT LINFIELD

Two delegates from Pacific college attended the Intercollegiate Invitational Forensics tournament at Linfield college Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

They entered the congress of human relations to discuss and attempt to solve the relief problem of the United States.

Caucuses were held, party leaders chosen and the party platforms chosen. The keynote speaker was E. J. Griffith, state administrator of the Works Progress Administration. The delegates were George Bales and William Thomas.

OPEN HOUSE PLANNED FOR DORMITORY

Open house at the modernized Kanyon Hall has been set by the committee for Sunday afternoon, March 10, from 2:00 to 5:00. The affair is not only for the college community, but also for everyone who is interested in inspecting the building.

Committee chairmen appointed by the board committee include: Reception, Mrs. Levi T. Pennington; decoration, Mrs. Edwin Sanders; invitations, Veldon J. Diment; program, Prof. Earl Wagner; and refreshments, Mrs. Frank Colcord.

The entire affair is to be informal.

Miss Kendall Chapel Speaker

"Histories of Mother Goose Rhymes" was the topic of Miss Emma Kendall's chapel talk on February 15.

"A number of the jingles have shadowy counterparts in almost every nation of the world and many go back to the 15th and 16th centuries," she said. Miss Kendall referred to the book, "Real Personages of Mother Goose," by Kathryn Thomas, as a source for histories of the rhymes.

"The Old Woman in the Shoe" is a satire on the actions of England, she stated. The old woman is parliament, the shoe is England, the children are the inhabitants in the possession, and the brother refers to James I.

"Sing a Song of Six Pence" refers to the events of Henry VIII's reigh, and "Little Miss Muffett" is concerned with Mary, Queen of Scots, Miss Kendall related. Mary was Little Miss Muffett' and the spider refers to John Knox, the reformer.

Miss Kendall said, in conclusion, that only until recent times has any serious interest been shown in Mother Goose.

Grade Tourney Slated This week

The Invitational Grade School Tournament sponsored annually by the Gold "P" club of Pacific college will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Feb. 29, March 1 and 2. Twenty-three teams have entered this year including 16 "B" teams and seven "A" teams. The new tournament trophy has arrived and is on display at Miller's. This trophy was donated by two college alumni, Lyle Barkman and Arney Houser.

The "B" schools participating are Manning, Yamhill, Hubbard, Sherwood, Gervais, St. Paul, Amity, Cornelius, Tualatin, Banks, Parkdale, Hillsview, Willamina, Aloha-Huber, Brooks and Gaston. The "A" schools participating are Harding of Newberg, Dallas, McMinnville, St. Marys, Chemawa, Beaverton and Woodburn. There will be 34 games played. Some of the consolation games will be played in the old high school gym.

On Saturday night the last session of the tournament there will be two games played and these include the consolation game and the tournament champion game. This year the trophies will be presented by George Layman, mayor of Newberg.

The trophy committee composed of Leroy Pierson and Joe Kycek and the entire Gold "P" club wish to express their sincere appreciation to the various clubs and business houses for theis donations and advertisements. The Rotary Club, Miller's, and J. C. Penney Co. donated the awards and the Gold "P" club sincerely thanks them.

Admission prices are $1.00 for adults and 50c for students which enable tnem to see all the games. Admittance to the individual series of three games will be 15c and 25c.

Publicity is in charge of Robert Seiloff; Stanley Keller is heading the referees; Jean Chase is in charge of a cleanup squad which will keep the gymnasium clean; Ed Daniels will act as manager for the visiting teams.

FROM THE SIDELINES

There has been a great deal of criticism on the item written in the sports column of the last paper in regard to the praise given the team for their cooperation. From all indications public opinion does not agree with that statement. There seems to be mutual understanding that there are some fellows on the team who seem to lack the team spirit. According to all the ethics of the game it should be played as a team of five men in opposition to an equal number of opponents. From the spectators' viewpoint, at least, there are some factions on the team that are playing against their own team in addition to their opponents. Why should there be so much individualism? Does the honor of being high point man make one a good basketball player? University of Oregon had a great team last year but did it have as its motto "every man for himself?" If it did they were all mighty good men.

This is not the opinion of only one person but the opinion of many. After all, this is a democracy and there is, supposedly, stars or dead-eye shooters. We have neither here so it is no wonder at all that there are no more people out to the games.

From all indications there are only four fellows around here who like to run. The Hill Relays are going to be a sight for anyone who likes big time sports. Many of the world's champions will be competing there and it is rumored that Glenn Cunningham will run there for the last time.

Quakers Lose To Roamers

In a "nip and tuck" battle with the Roamers, the Quakers lost by a score of 32-30 Tuesday, Feb. 22.

Pacific drew first blood with a basket by Smith, a foul shot by A. Booth, and another foul shot by Smith. However, the Roamers started clicking and at half time led by a score of 19-14.

The second half opened with a rally by the Quakers that overcame the Roamers' lead and put them ahead 20-19. All through the second half the score seesawed back and forth with first one team in the lead and then the other. The game ended at a time when the Roamers had a two-point lead.

Chuck Smith was high point man with 15 points to his credit and Joe Kycek was next with 13 points for the Roamers.

The lineups were as follows:

Pacific		Roamers
K. Booth, 2	f	Johnson, 9
Smith, 15	f	Goodrich, 2
Davis, 6	c	Bennett, 2
A. Booth, 3	g	Boxx, 4

JAPANESE CONSUL SPEAKS TO STUDENTS

Thursday evening, Feb. 22, the International Relations club secured the Japanese consul from Portland to speak on Japanese-United States relations. At the close of the talk he answered questions from the audience. The frankness of the speaker in dealing with Japan's war situation and their foreign policy was well received by the club.

New officers for the second term will be elected at the next meeting to be held March 5.

QUAKER FRESHMEN TAKE DUNDEE QUINT

Once more the Quaker Freshmen came through with a win when they defeated the Dundee high school quint 35-27. They had to overcome a 10-point lead at the half to do it, but by good teamwork they finally succeeded.

High point man for the game was Kenny Booth with 11 points. Arnold Booth and Ed Beese were next high with 10 points each.

"When I was shipwrecked in South America," said Captain Bowsprit, "I came across a tribe of wild women who had no tongues."

"Oh, Captain," thrilled a young thing in the audience, "how could they talk?"

"They couldn't," snapped the old salt. "That's what made them wild."

Judge: "What's the charge against this man, officer?"

Officer: "Bigotry, yer Honor

PACIFIC COLLEGE RECEIVES GIFT

Pennington's needs.

At present, the foundation has only about $10,000 in funds, hence the provision to divert needed funds from the new gift. The aid from this week's bequest is to be available only until 1955, according to the donor's terms.

The $25,000 gift was the second cash bequest received by the college in the last few days. With the settlement of the Lynn B. Ferguson estate, $1,000 willed by the former Newberg druggist was presented to the school.

The board at its meeting Monday night voted to open the boys' dormitory for use of people attending the Oregon Yearly Meeting of Friends here in June. It was decided not to make available the recently-renovated girls' dormitory, Kanyon hall.

The afternoon session was a continuation of the morning program. The evening was marked with more talks and social times. The delegates returned home Saturday afternoon.

Delegates attending from Pacific college were Professor Sanders, Professor Conover, Eugene Rogers, David Michener and Leroy Pierson.
